

ABOUT US

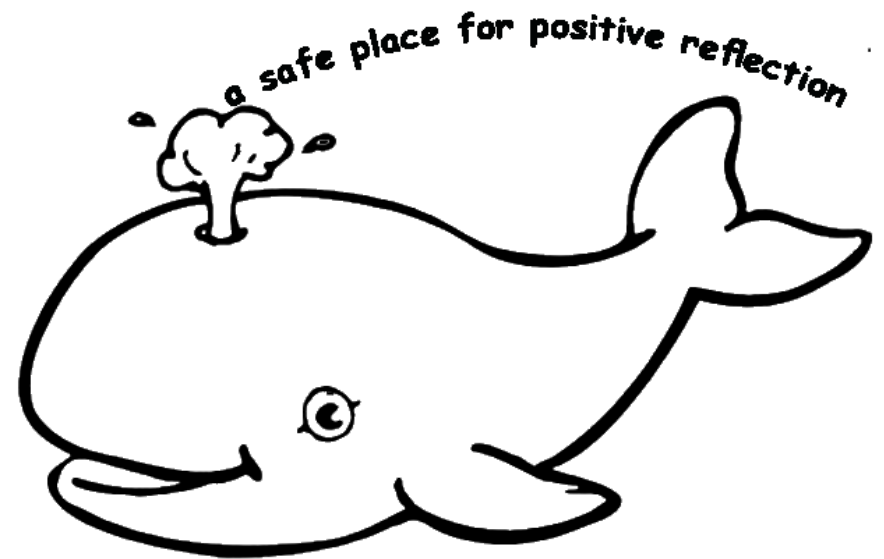

Jonah's Project – a safe place for positive reflection. Jonah's Project has based its ethos on the bible story of Jonah and the whale, although Jonah's project has no religious affiliation, morally the story suits the vision, morals and values of the company. The basic summary of the story is that God called on Jonah to deliver his word to the people and Jonah turned his back and chose the wrong path. This path led him to face God and be swallowed by a whale. Inside the whale, Jonah reflected on the choices he made and chose to make right his wrongs and go forth on to the right path. This is what we aim to do with the young people we work with, effectively we become the whale and empathically support them to turn a negative situation, issue or experience into a positive life lesson.

Jonah's Project CIC

PRESENTS

A SCHOOLS BASED WORKSHOP PROGRAMME

Jonahs Project CIC provides services to young people aged 11-25 yrs who are convicted, involved or at risk of criminal activity

As a company whose roots and ethos are based around positive reflection, we want to help you provide this support to young people you recognise are in need of extra guidance. This is with a view to helping prevent disengagement and exclusions leading to alternative education. Due to the issues young people are facing in the current climate, we are aware that there is more of a public health approach at hand and that young people faced with being excluded to an alternative provision are more likely or susceptible to being involved in criminal activity. We believe our intervention will help to re-engage your young people, assisting them to make the right turn.
